Al-Anon Mens 10/11/12 Steps Workshop

With the insights and growth from the previous steps as our foundation, we are ready to embrace the principles of ongoing recovery, spiritual practice, and service. This concluding session of our series encapsulates the essence of living these steps daily.

In the spirit of unity and progression, this day is an invitation to solidify your practice of the principles and to carry them forward with confidence and purpose. It's an affirmation of the transformative path we walk together in Al-Anon, offering a beacon of hope and the promise of a continuous, shared journey in recovery.

Whether you are attending your first workshop with us or you have attended others with us, there are no prerequisites for participation; this workshop is open to all. This workshop is designed to meet you wherever you are in your step work, providing a supportive community that nurtures your journey.

Expect to gain a deeper appreciation for the transformative power of these steps and how they can be lived out each day. This workshop is your stepping stone to a life enriched by Al-Anon's teachings, ready to offer hope and help to others on this path.
